

5 Common First-Time Homebuyer Mistakes

They don't ask enough questions of their lender and miss out on the best deal.

They look at multiple houses with multiple Realtors, usually choosing the Realtor whose name is on the sign; (lesson: find the right agent to help you through the entire home buying process!)

They don't act quickly enough to make a decision and someone else buys the house.

They don't do enough to make their offer look good to a seller.

They don't think about resale before they buy. The average first-time buyer only stays in a home for four years.

Mark Zwick, Bringing home results to the Greater Philadelphia area. 215-627-2848
mark@markzwick.com

Content courtesy of Rebecca Diamond